

Critical Reflection

Take some time to reflect on your learning, including next steps to creating a more diverse classroom library.

How are you feeling about the idea of creating a more diverse classroom library?

Thinking about your students, who would feel represented in the books you have in your library and that you read to them? Is there room for improvement?

Who can you reach out to for support in your learning?

What is one thing you could do tomorrow, next week, next month to create a more diverse classroom?

What is one ah-ha from today you would share with a colleague that wasn't at the workshop?

Thank you for taking the time to reflect!
(note this is for your personal growth and not meant to be collected at the end of the workshop)